God's Provision Wellness Center

God's Provision Wellness Center is a resource center for reentry and recovery. We exist to equip individuals ready to end the cycle of recidivism and successfully transition into their community. Providing individuals with resources and support while on their recovery journey.

The programming of APH is unique because it combines caring support and mentoring with educational content to improve life skills in a context of personal accountability. "APH" refers to the transitional residence, as well as the daily programming at the residence.
