

SHARE new mexico™

AGDG Academy

AGDG Academy will be our nonprofit's inaugural educational system. Over the past four years, we have conducted an average of over ten outreach events each year, servicing a local community of hundreds of novice to professional video game developers.

AGDG Academy will be the formalization of our outreach efforts. This program will provide a concrete academy in which we deliver tailored, pre-defined video game development curricula to groups of learners across all skill levels.

Participants will learn from the basics (Scratch programming, simple pixel art) all the way to advanced techniques (C# programming, Unity, Unreal Engine, Blender, Maya, CAD, and more).

The goal is to provide a meaningful bridge for nontechnical participants to learn fun skills that cultivate their interest in STEM skills and creating video games that enrich our community.

Details

Ages: All ages

Races: All

Genders: All

Intake Process: Email

Documentation: No identification needed

Payment Options: Free

Waiting List: Never

Minimum Age: 8

Maximum Age: 105

Contact: Michaela Negus

Contact Email: menegus@sandia.gov

Capacity: 25

Services

Education Community Economic Development

Locations

Official AGDG Nonprofit Home Base

Phone: (505) 307-6325

Languages Spoken: English

Services Limited By Geography: Anyone willing to drive to Albuquerque. We may be able to travel to other cities and towns as needed.

Parent Organization

Albuquerque Game Developers Guild

Albuquerque Game Developers Guild (AGDG) promotes a community of collaboration in order to create and curate the future of game development in Albuquerque. Ours is a community of inclusivity that welcomes everyone interested in coding as well as creating art, music, stories, and any other interactive game or experience design. To increase accessibility, community, and peer to peer support, we pledge:

~ To provide a safe, inclusive, and inviting space for everyone who wishes to attend meetings, events, or workshops hosted by AGDG. These events are for anyone who seeks a place to create, teach, or collaborate within our community.

~ To provide access to resources that can be critical to many developers. This includes but is not limited to scholarship, mentorship, hardware, software, development kits, and presentation and collaboration equipment. Developers with few resources should have equal opportunity and the support necessary to bring their ideas to life.

~ To nurture the work of the local community through outreach, workshops, conference attendance, public events, and project promotion. AGDG will strive to create platforms to amplify the work and voices of the artists and developers in our community in a diverse and inclusive way.

*2409 Jane St NE
Albuquerque, NM 87112*

Phone: (505) 307-6325

Primary Contact: Shandiin Woodward

Contact Email: abqgames@gmail.com

Type: Nonprofit

EIN: 82-0856122

<http://agdg.co>