Family Self Sufficiency Program

Families selected to participate in the Family Self Sufficiency program must meet the general eligibility criteria of the Public Housing and Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program. They are assigned a family advocate who helps them target specific goals for success and plan strategies to reach them.Family Self Sufficiency participants qualify for substantial assistance in getting services like child care, education, job training, transportation, parenting skills and health care.

During each family's period of Family Self Sufficiency participation Albuquerque Housing Authority sets up an escrow account for them. As each families earning power and wages grow the family's share of rent under the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program or Public Housing Program goes up. Instead of charging these families more rent, AHA credits the family's increased portion of rent to their escrow account every month. The money in these escrow accounts is presented to each participating family when they complete their 5-year period of Family Self Sufficiency participation.
