Parent Organization

Alliance for the Earth

Our work began in 1990 when a 106-year-old Tibetan lama, living in a Himalayan cave in Nepal, gave us a Buddhist practice to bring healing and protection to the Earth by ceremonially filling sacred Earth Treasure Vases with prayers and offerings and burying them all around the world in places of need. For over twenty years we have carried out this practice, connecting indigenous elders, young activists and people like you in prayer and ceremony for our global healing and collective awakening.

Our intention is to engage and empower individuals and communities around the world to awaken and transform our destructive ways of life into actions that honor and sustain the web of life.
