AMikids Sandoval Residential Program

Since 2011, AMikids Sandoval has been dedicated to helping kids discover the potential within them; transforming their lives and strengthening our communities. Located in Cuba, New Mexico, AMikids Sandoval serves kids involved in Federal Juvenile Probation, primarily Native American youth from various tribes and pueblos, Hispanic youth, some of which are residents of Mexico, and sometimes youth of military families.

Our program operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week, with our kids living in dormitories on campus in a remote location ideally structured to help them work through their issues and gain the needed skills to return to their families and communities.

AMikids Sandoval uses the evidence-based, research-driven AMikids Personal Growth Model in offering dynamic programs and comprehensive services to treat each kid's unique issues, primarily focusing on education, behavior modification, and treatment.
