SHARE new mexico™

Arc of San Juan County

Disability prevention, public awareness campaigns and workshops. Community education, workshops, public speaking. Publicity about disability issues, promoting a positive image of people with disabilities. Newsletter, book loan, e-mail announcements. Information and referral. Liaison between service provider agencies and families. Person Centered Planning Advocacy. Coalition and community building around specific projects: inclusion, self-determination Financial assistance for training, special projects, assistive devices, furniture and clothing, etc. Support of self-determination, self-advocacy, and People First. Lobbying in support of self-determination, comprehensive services & options, and interdependence for people with disabilities. Job try-outs, volunteer opportunities, and employment for people with disabilities.

Details

Services

Legal Information & Services Education Employment & Training Community Action/Social Advocacy Groups Information Services Individual & Family Support Services Money Management

---

Locations

200 West Broadway
Farmington, NM 87401

Phone: 505-325-8998

Parent Organization

Arc of San Juan County

We support quality of life for people with developmental disabilities and their families.

200 West Broadway
Farmington, NM 87401

Phone: 505-325-8998
http://www.thearcthriftown.org