Casa Aliento

Casa Aliento was created to give women and people who identify as female an option for better living. We are a 501c3 agency in the state of New Mexico. Casa Aliento is a faith-based independent, transitional living program that focuses on restoring women's hearts in the aftercare of their traumatic experiences. Through different case management methods and advocacy, we help give women from all over New Mexico and Mexico and soon in Guatemala, the chance to reach true freedom from life-controlling situations – such as being victims of human trafficking, sex trafficking, sex work, substance abuse, sexual assault, and rape. Our services are free of charge to the client and completely funded by donors, ministries, fundraisers, and businesses.

If you are a victim of human trafficking, sex worker, sexual assault, labor trafficking, or rape and need help, please contact one of our advocates at 505-227-3824- you can call or text and can contact at any time, 24/7.

If you suspect someone you know or someone in your community might be a victim call 911 or 242-cops for emergency situations. If you would like an advocate to help you identify a possible victim call 505-227-3824.
