Chrysalis Psychiatry

The chrysalis is the transitional state of a butterfly. Surrounded by a hard outer shell, the butterfly pupa is protected as it undergoes its transformation and emerges, ready to fly. Here at Chrysalis Psychiatry, we aim to create a safe space for you to come as you are, confront your greatest fears, heal from your deepest wounds, and leave transformed into the beautiful person you were made to be. Sometimes this process happens remarkably quickly, and sometimes it takes years. Whatever your journey to freedom looks like, we will be with you all the way. We offer a range of psychiatric services with the goal of helping each client transform into the person they were meant to become.
