Parent Organization

Cuyamungue Institute

The Cuyamungue Institute is an independent, not-for-profit educational organization founded in 1979 by anthropologist Dr. Felicitas D. Goodman, committed to transforming consciousness through the ancient wisdom of ritual postures. The Institute promotes public awareness and teaches the powerful use and effectiveness of these postures throughout the world. The Institute continues to cultivate new avenues of learning, using a prescribed method by which ordinary individuals are able to enter an expanded state of consciousness, and promote the safe use of this method.
