E-Tech International

E-Tech is currently exploring the most effective means to work jointly with its international partners and is developing strategies for integrating technical assistance and effective policy. In addition to training and capacity building, E-Tech will act as a broker to provide consultants when technical studies are deemed necessary.

Parent Organization

E-Tech International

Global community environmental technical support. E-Tech strives to have a long-term positive impact by building community-level technical capacity and conducting needed monitoring and interpretation – as requested by local communities themselves. Rather than applying expertise to an issue briefly, we seek to be a resource for as long as the situation warrants it – by developing regional and local expertise and reliable analytical laboratories.
