Esperanza Shelter for Battered Families

Esperanza Shelter is a domestic violence agency. We offer safe, confidential housing, counseling, food, clothing and supplies—for you and your children, if you have kids. We can help get you to our shelter if you don't have transportation. Esperanza also helps abuse survivors work within the court system. All our services are free and confidential.

Esperanza Shelter primarily serves Santa Fe County and the eight Northern Pueblos. We occasionally shelter domestic abuse victims from other parts of New Mexico and even some from other parts of the U.S. when necessary.
