

SHARE new mexico™

Expanding Your Horizons

The EYH Conferences seek to inspire young women in STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) fields by providing fun, hands on activities while also allowing access to female role models in STEM fields.

Details

Ages: Children and Youth Teen

Genders: Females

Intake Process: Online Application

Payment Options: Fee for service No one is refused service due to inability to pay

Waiting List: Usually

Minimum Age: 11

Maximum Age: 18

Services

Educational Programs

Locations

Phone: (925) 294-2393

Languages Spoken: English

Services Limited By Geography: Our conferences service Alameda and San Joaquin Counties in CA

Parent Organization

Expanding Your Horizons Consortium

The EYH Consortium oversees the two local Expanding Your Horizons conferences -Tri Valley and San Joaquin- that are co-organized by volunteers from Sandia/CA and Lawrence Livermore National Lab. The EYH Conferences seek to inspire young women in STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) fields by providing fun, hands-on activities while also allowing access to positive female role models in STEM fields. In addition to the hands-on workshops, the girls may participate in a Career Fair, Career Panel, or other special activity geared toward STEM. The Tri Valley conference also hosts an Adult Program, where parents can learn to support their students in their educational journeys and includes speakers from financial aid and admissions from various local colleges and universities.

7011 East Ave, MS 9042
Livermore, CA 94550

Phone:

(925) 294-2393

Type: Nonprofit

EIN: 27-4162514

<http://www.tveyh.org> www.sjeyh.org