Barelas and Flamenco: Inner-city struggle, a reason to thrive.

Flamenco Works gives weekly classes for children through adults while focusing on the advancement of youth in professional Flamenco dance. The organization offers frequent intro classes to provide a stepping stone to more advanced classes for the non-professional. The organization also provides performances, workshops and works with area schools to introduce children to Flamenco dance.

Parent Organization

Flamenco Works, Inc.

Founded by Flamenco moms: Joy Prieto, Deanna Tenorio, with support from Jesús Muñoz, “Flamenco Works, Inc.” is a co-op based conservatory model with a focus on advancing children and youth of New Mexico in the art of Flamenco.

The focus of the model is to get youth ready to integrate into professional Flamenco companies by training at a global standard. Both the dance company and educational components work independent of each other to create self-sustainably and focused ecosystem model. We build a bridge for successful educational incorporation of youth while maintaining the integrity of a professional Flamenco touring dance company.
