Fly Fishing Day Camps

Fly-Fishing camps are planned and coordinated with community partners. Fly Fish NM (FFNM) provides youth inclusion and equitable access to the outdoors by planning fly-fishing day camps that educate youth about conservation of our natural environment, and preservation of fragile fishing habitats. Clean Air, Land, and Water are vital to our sport. FFNM coordinates efforts with organizations like Big Brothers Big Sisters, the Espanola Teen YMCA, and the Mora County Youth Creative Council, and also works with regional and community leaders, teachers, and other sources - to identify communities with underprivileged youth who are interested and sometimes unable to access outdoor activities. Youth program coordinators should contact us in order to coordinate a group fly fishing day camp with their organization.
