Engage One to One

Engaging in service to communities and intercultural understanding are core values cultivated by members in our student groups. A variety of clubs are available to high school and university students, including UNESCO clubs which provide participants with the skills needed to foster civil society collaboration. The foundation upon which we can build sustainable security and peace in our neighborhoods, cities and between countries, depends on the development of shared values, dialogue, tolerance, respect, and understanding.

Engage One to One establishes and supports school clubs in New Mexico in alignment with UNESCO's goal "to contribute to peace and security in the world by promoting collaboration among nations through Education, Science, Culture, and Communication in order to further universal respect for justice, for the rule of law and for the human rights and fundamental freedoms which are affirmed for the peoples of the world, without distinction of race, sex, language, or religion." (UNESCO Constitution, Article I)

If you are an educator or student club leader and would like to learn how you can establish an Engage One to One UNESCO club at your school, please contact us.
