Parent Organization

Immigrant And Refugee Resource Village of Albuquerque (IRRVA)

Immigrant and Refugee Resource Village of Albuquerque's mission is to promote empowerment and provide support to the most vulnerable immigrants, refugees and asylees in the Albuquerque area to improve conditions for children and build healthy, productive children and families. IRRVA is a 100% volunteer community supported nonprofit that serves low/no income refugee, immigrant and asylee children/families from Africa, Asia, Middle East, the United States and other parts of the world, often with no formal education or ability to speak, read and write English.

IRRVA is dedicated to providing a safety net for immigrants, refugees and their families through a variety of programs, resources, and support. Co-founded by Nkazi and Lungile Sinandile, themselves immigrants from South Africa, the goal of IRRVA is to help its participants make a successful transition to life in their new community, including social-emotional, physical, educational, and financial well-being. The long-term goal is for IRRVA community members to assume leadership roles within IRRVA and the greater community-sharing their individual talents and gifts with their community.
