Innovate+Educate

Innovate+Educate (I+E) is a New Mexico-based national nonprofit focused on shifting training, hiring, and advancement strategies to ensure the over 100 million low-income workers in the U.S. are provided access to learning and employment leading to lifelong economic success. Our work is big system change that is foundational to key social determinants of community health, supporting increased economic mobility for workers and their families, powered by new ways of defining learner success.

Our mission is to create multiple pathways to training and employment for economic success.

Our vision is that by leveraging multiple pathways, learners and workers will have increased access to quality training and career opportunities, resulting in sustained economic mobility and security for their families and communities. Simultaneously, employers experience increased ROI through identification and promotion of a more diverse and better trained workforce, creating greater value for both themselves and the (New Mexico) economy.

Our framework is fueling a nationwide adoption of new industry-driven, competency-based hiring processes critical to creating pathways to employment for the many workers struggling or left behind in the current education-to-employment system.
