

SHARE new mexico™

La Semilla Community Farm

La Semilla Community Farm is a 14-acre education and demonstration farm that hosts year-round youth programming, public workshops, school tours, summer camps, and apprenticeships. We teach youth and families about sustainable, agro-ecological and dryland farming techniques, permaculture design principles, desert food heritage history, and culinary and nutrition skills. We offer food systems education at the farm, teach social entrepreneurship skills, and offer fresh produce in communities across southern New Mexico and El Paso County, Texas.

Details

Ages: Children and Youth Adults

Races: All

Genders: All

Intake Process: Email

Minimum Age: 8

Maximum Age: 24

Services

Community Economic Development Environmental Protection & Improvement Food Educational Programs

Locations

La Semilla Community Farm

350 Our Way Road

Anthony, NM 88021

Mailing:

PO Box 2579

Anthony, NM 88021

Phone: 575-882-2393

Parent Organization

La Semilla Food Center

La Semilla Food Center's mission is to build a healthy, self-reliant, fair, and sustainable food system in the Paso del Norte region of southern New Mexico and El Paso, Texas. We work with children, youth, and families to build awareness around food issues, provide informed analysis, and create alternatives for healthier environments and communities.

*101 E Joy Drive
Anthony, NM 88021*

Phone: (575) 882-2393

Email: info@lasemillafoodcenter.org

Primary Contact: Beverly Longoria or Aaron Sharatt

Contact Email: info@lasemillafoodcenter.org

Type: Nonprofit

EIN: 272486484