

Youth Activity Centers

There are two Youth Activity Centers (YAC) in Los Alamos County. One is in the Los Alamos Community Building (next to Ashley Pond) below the Teen Center. The other is in White Rock behind the White Rock Library.

The program provides supervised programs at no cost for youth in grades 3-8. The YAC is open every day after school, during school vacations, and during the summer. The YAC exists to provide a safe environment and to develop resiliency in youth.
