

Action Planning

There is a time for collecting input – and there is a time for action. For groups that are ready for action, New Mexico First manages implementation teams, strategic planning sessions, working groups, or task forces. Often, these projects require our support for extended periods of time, generally 4-12 months.

Recent Events Issues addressed in recent events include:

- Developing annual strategic goals for a business board
 - Outlining a legislative action plan for a infrastructure town hall
 - Identifying policies and processes to govern a secondary/post-secondary school partnership
 - Managing a working group addressing tribal and municipal relations
