Reentry Services

Our support centers around early engagement while our clients are preparing to be released. Our team of support workers build rapport, navigate services, and prepare clients for release. We also assist clients after release with fundamental support services to begin their journey in reentry aware and not alone.

New Mexico Reentry Center

Our mission is to break the cycle of re-incarceration by offering training and support to individuals in New Mexico who are recovering from substance use disorders, mental health issues, and Pre/Post incarcerated individuals. Through initiatives focused on reducing recidivism, fostering self-empowerment, and providing support from lived experienced leaders, we aim to cultivate pride, resilience, and sustainability among our community members.
