NewMexicoKids Resource & Referral

In support of New Mexico's children, the NewMexicoKids Resource and Referral service works collaboratively to inform and educate a broad range of consumers that results in high quality early care and education, a respectful and professional environment, is culturally sensitive and is fully accountable.

We are committed to systems that support:

- Developmentally appropriate early learning environments for all children birth to eight including school-age care and education;
- Affordable, accessible, high quality, developmentally appropriate early care and education to all families; and
- Early childhood education that builds on and supports existing programs
- Family choice through information and resources
