Read to Me! Children's Book Drive

A city-wide, cross-sector collaboration to benefit all of Albuquerque's children, Read to Me! provides children books and other early-learning efforts. Books are collected at locations throughout Albuquerque. Volunteers are always welcome to help us pick up, sort and distribute these books to schools and learning centers whose students and families needed them most. Families will find these books at early learning centers, hospitals, clinics, government offices (waiting rooms), schools, neighborhood associations and community centers

We invite everyone in Albuquerque to help us collect and distribute books, and to call us whenever your organization needs books to give to your constituents.
