Rivers

The San Juan Mountains give birth to remarkable rivers and streams that provide life-giving waters for farms and cities while supporting ecosystem health, recreation, and aesthetic values. Due to a history of consumption, diversion, and pollution our rivers and streams, the ecosystems they support, and our right to plentiful and pure water are in jeopardy.

Since the inception of our Rivers Program in 2002, the Alliance has worked to permanently protect our remaining free-flowing streams, increase system-wide water efficiencies, improve water quality, and promote democracy in water policy creation.

Parent Organization

San Juan Citizens Alliance

San Juan Citizens Alliance advocates for clean air, pure water, and healthy lands -- the foundations of resilient communities, ecosystems and economies in the San Juan Basin. In addition to working in both Colorado and New Mexico, we have long-standing partnerships with Navajo Nation advocates as members of the Nation often experience the brunt of climate and health impacts from the overwhelming amount of fossil fuel development in the Four Corners.
