Annual Season

With uninterrupted seasons since its founding, The Santa Fe Playhouse has earned the distinction of being “the oldest continuously running theatre west of the Mississippi.”

With its “open door policy,” The Playhouse provides opportunities for future directors, actors, designers and technicians to be involved and gain hands-on experience at the theatre working side-by-side with professionals in their field. Participation in Live Theatre is vital to its continuation and therefore, anyone who wants to play a part, whether onstage or backstage, is welcomed.
