

SHARE new mexico™

School for Advanced Research

The School for Advanced Research (SAR) supports advanced scholarship and creativity in the social sciences, the humanities, and Native American art. Since 1907, SAR has supported innovative programs that expand our knowledge of human nature, culture, and creativity. Through the Indian Arts Research Center (IARC), SAR offers artist-in-residence fellowships for Native Americans. These fellowships provide opportunities for artists of all mediums to dedicate time to explore new avenues of creativity or strengthen their existing talents. Internship programs at IARC support Native American undergraduates, graduate students, and junior museum professionals in developing strong backgrounds in academia and museum work. IARC also offers several no-cost programs open to tribal community groups, individual artists, tribal elders, and local Indian schools who wish to visit the collections. Through its Resident Scholar and Summer Scholar programs, SAR awards up to 14 residential fellowships each year to scholars in the social sciences, arts, and humanities who need time to think and write. Seminars at SAR promote in-depth communication among scholars who are at a critical stage of research on a shared topic and whose interaction has the potential to create new insights on human evolution, behavior, culture, and creative expression.

Details

Services

Arts & Culture Education Employment & Training

Locations

660 Garcia Street
Santa Fe, NM 87504

Mailing:

P.O. Box 2188
Santa Fe, NM 87504

Phone: (505) 954-7200

Parent Organization

School for Advanced Research

SAR supports innovative research and public education through seminars, lectures, and residential fellowships focused on the comparative, historically informed study of human societies; promotes Indigenous creativity through artist residencies; and stewards one of the world's finest research collections of Southwest Native American art.

660 Garcia Street
Santa Fe, NM 87504

Mailing:

P.O. Box 2188

Phone: (505) 954-7200

Email: poon@sarsf.org

Type: Nonprofit

<http://www.sarweb.org>