Affective Sexuality & Relational Wellbeing

Affective Sexuality & Relational Wellbeing supports adults across different stages of life in exploring and strengthening the relationship between sexuality, emotional wellbeing, relationships, and personal development. Through individualized coaching, sexology, education, and supportive guidance, the program provides space to address intimacy, sexual wellbeing, relationship dynamics, communication, self-understanding, identity, life transitions, unmet needs and longings, and decisions affecting personal and relational wellbeing.

The program recognizes that sexuality and relationships do not exist separately from the rest of life. Individual experiences, values, identities, circumstances, culture, health, and changing life stages can all shape how people experience themselves and relate to others.

Services are personalized to the individual's needs and goals and are available remotely in English and Spanish.
