Helping Hand Technology, Career & Financial Empowerment Education Training Center

Helping Hands Technology, Career Training and Financial Empowerment Educational Training program began to emerge as a strategy for promoting workforce development, social and economic well-being of domestic violence survivors, women, girls, veterans and economically disadvantaged individuals with the opportunities to be able to save and accumulate assets, Job preparedness, training, skills building, college or vocational certification, career counseling, placement, job retention, and entrepreneurship leading to livable wage jobs, Social enterprises, other transitional employment and workforce re-entry programs tied to job training and placement for the unemployed, under-employed, formerly incarcerated, homeless, and disconnected youth putting people on track for growth and meaningful employment To become entrepreneurs and create new jobs. The program will assist these individuals in setting goals and motivation to achieve goals, which will promote more self-confidence and self-esteem, and a greater future orientation and hope.

The program will educate our students in financial empowerment direct services, credit repair financial empowerment, job readiness and job training, financial empowerment, micro-enterprise and matched savings. The training program offers career empowerment such as being safe during the job search and at work, choosing and planning for the career you want, getting started in your career, preparing for their job search and sharing information and communicating in the job search and at work.
