Tricklock Company

Tricklock Company asserts that theatre is a provocative and vital tool for examining the human experience and intrinsic to the evolution of world culture. Tricklock Company believes in the power of ongoing intensive artistic training, international collaboration and cultural exchange through theater, and in the capacity of the theater to expand possibilities for the world. We present our findings through our work. The Vision & Direction of Tricklock Company are exemplified through its ongoing programs:

- The Resident Company

The Ensemble trains, creates, and performs locally as well as touring nationally and internationally to promote the value of ongoing group work and cultural and artistic exchange. .

- Tricklock Education Programs

Through a variety of programs including The Manoa Project: Teen Summer Ensemble Apprenticeship Program, the Tricklock-UNM Residency, The Tricklock Professional Intensives, and community workshops people of all walks of life have the chance to delve into the Tricklock style of devised work and physical story creation. Tricklock Company fosters a collaborative environment and is dedicated to experimentation and ongoing live performance work. Tricklock is committed to accessible educational programming for young people. The Manoa Project and community workshops are and always have been free to participants.

- The Revolutions International Theatre Festival

Revolutions is connecting communities by bringing a broad scope of world theatre to New Mexico which creates a cultural and artistic fusion. We believe that the exposure to world theatre and culture increases mutual understanding, inspires change, and empowers individuals to improve the overall quality of life for all people. Performances from around the globe expand the theatrical possibilities for all New Mexican citizens. Each visiting company provides free workshops which aids in the dissemination of new styles and ideas on theatrical training and creation to the established and developing artists of New Mexico. The festival provides multiple free community events allowing a forum for cultural exchange and dialogue that might not otherwise reach our state. Tricklock Company is dedicated to bringing the global community together in New Mexico for cultural and artistic exchange.

“The ensemble specializes in emotional, poetic, and intensely physical performances. The intimate rapport they’ve built up with each other over the years shows and is beautifully expressed by this talented group. No one is pushing the theatrical envelope like Tricklock.” - Weekly Alibi
